Pastor's Message

I've shared in a sermon earlier this year a story about my Grandfather Ben Van Osdel, who once took me out on a tractor and made me smell a clump of dirt. He said to me, "If this isn't God's work, I don't know what is." That quote has always affected me, primarily because it has to do with our sense of calling in this world, or as Martin Luther might say, our vocation.

We all have callings in this world, and we all have multiple callings as well. As the saying goes, "We all wear many hats." Some of us are called to be farmers and ranchers, some of us are teachers and preachers, some of us are parents and relatives. Whatever our callings are, we are called to do them to the best of our abilities to serve God and importantly enough, our neighbor. We live out God's grace for us in Christ, by living our ordinary lives and showing Christ's love to all whom we encounter.

Our world feels tumultuous sometimes; there is so much change happening so quickly that it can be difficult to find where our ground is. That's when we need to lean into our own particular callings/vocations even more. Because it's in our day-to-day lives where we can best love our neighbor.

This is a time of practicing what God calls us to do in such times, to be still and know that He is God. Trust in the Lord, be true to your vocations and be full of God-given faith in Christ.

Sing to the Lord a new song,

Pastor Herb

Pastor's Report

February 12th, 2025

1. Ash Wednesday is but a mere 3 weeks away from today. We will be participating in a preaching round robin again this year with the help of other preachers in the area. Our theme for this Lent will be Guided by the Cross, and the liturgy setting will be Holden Evening Prayer. I believe we will worship in this order:
 - a. March 12th, First Lutheran
 - b. March 19th, St. Jacobs
 - c. March 26th, First Lutheran
 - d. April 2nd, St. Jacobs
 - e. April 9th, First Lutheran
2. It will be time for our 5th graders to have their 1st Communion on Maundy Thursday, April 17th. We will have the Milestone training on April 5th at 10:00am. There we will learn about Holy Communion; what it is, what it isn't and how to best receive Communion.
 - a. Also, students will be decorating their own little chalices as a reminder of this important milestone in their life of faith.
 - b. They will also be making Communion bread.
3. Confirmands will not be meeting during the season of Lent. Instead, they will be taking sermon notes. Confirmands will also be helping serve at the Westside Banquet on the 26th. Youth Group is scheduled to follow at 1st, unless something changes.
4. Book club will be meeting on February 19th @ 5:30pm. We will discuss chapters 8, 9 and 10.
5. I have a couple of thoughts looking at worship practices. With our CCLI license, we can create our own songbooks. I was curious if this was something that we should do, to bolster First's body of knowledge on some of the songs that we know we can sing together.
 - a. Also, I think it would be great to put a praise band together. If you know of anyone that is interested in being involved, let me know. Commitment would be practicing once a month for about an hour and leading worship once a month.
6. I was able to make 8 visits this past month.
Respectfully submitted,
Pastor Herb Wounded Head III
